Capt. Harris' 320th Infantry Men Play Good Ball at Park.

By S. H. BAKER.

By S. H. BAKER.

Captain Joe Harris and his 330th infantry baseball team had no trouble in defeating the Quartermaster Corps team of Fort Myer by the one-sided score of 14 to 1.

Harris came here with a major league ball club, as four of his teammates were either in the National or American League and his three huriers were the whole works. Davis, the first man to do mound duty, worked first man to do mound duty, worked five innings and allowed one hit and set ten down after fanning the air. five innings and allowed one hit and set ten down after fanning the air. He was followed on the mound by Rodkey, of Brooklyn, who was on the firing line for three innings, not yielding a hit, and was never in danger of being scored upon, as not a man reached the initial sack. Rodkey was followed by Miljos, also of the Brooklyn National League Club, who had been pasturing in center field during the early stages of the game. When he ascended the mound in the final inning he allowed one hit and passed a man, but this individual never saw the midway station.

Speaker Champ Clark opened the game by throwing out the ball to Um-pire Navin. Goldberg opened the game for the Quartermasters with a scratch single, took second on an out and scored while Harris was fielding out Penny. This was the only time a man of the Quartermaster Corps saw the far corner, as in the other innings they were retired in one-two three order.

In the infantrymen's half of the first, Semans singled but was forced at second by Emmery. Young forced Emmery at second, but he stole a minute later. Harris was given a pase on balls, as he looked dangerous. Young and Harris worked the double steel and both second on Lloyd's steal and both scored on Lloyd's triple to the score board.

The visitors scored one or more runs in the second, third, fourth and fifth. Brunnette held the Soldiers safe in the sinth, but in the seventh on two hits one more tally was put over the plate. After one man was down Emmery was given a life at first, Young fouled out to O'Day, Harris doubled to right, but was caught between third and home, when he tried to stretch his hit which The Infantrymen showed some fast fielding and hit the ball to all cor-ners of the lot. Young, at short, made the fielding feature play of the a lot of applause. The score:

Andy Has Williams and Frush Putting Him in Condition.

Baltimore, Md., May 4.—With George Chaney, Kid Williams and Danny Frush all on hand and helping. Young Chaney found himself will cared for in the way of sparring partners yesterday in working out for his ten-round no-decision bout with Champion Pete Herman next Wednesday night at the Lyric hefore the day night at the Lyric before the American Athletic Association, George game when he took a throk from Chaney, the boy for whom Andy went Stanley with his gloved hand to catch Enock stealing, which got him Kid Williams furnished Herman's coming opponent with the rough work, while Danny Frush was on hand for the fancy business in the

It did not require a brick house to tumble on Andy to realize from the jump what a great chance he had in meeting the New Orleans title-holde and he has set about his work with the same snap and dash that has characterized all of his recent matches in the squared circle. Although no decision will be given, Andy is fully aware of the fact that if he is fully aware of the fact that if he shows to advantage over Herman, there will be more work for him than ever, both in his home town and out of the city.

That the cut over his left eye which he sustained in the bout with Joe Burman recently, is not causing him any worry was evidenced by the manner in which he went about his work yesterday. While this eye has not entirely healed, Andy has no fear of its not being entirely O. K. on of its not being entirely O. K. on Wednesday. He has it heavily plastered now, but roughed it with ail of his partners yesterday. The weight, which will be 120 pounds ringoide, is easy for aim, and he should be good and strong when he steps betwen the ropes. Manager Eletzer has completed his and hurdle men were far in advance of those used by Western.
